Compliance Preparation and Reporting

Your Guide to CSRD Compliance and Reporting

CSRHub CSRD Readiness Calculator saves time and money

- ✓ Quickly and accurately test if you comply with CSRD. How will your company compare to your peers?
- ✓ Decide where to place focus. Scan topics and look for weak spots. See which sustainability areas you need to focus on now.
- ✓ Choose your own threshold. Do you want to be in step with your peers or be best in class? Set goals you can meet rather than absolute targets.
- ✓ Protect your brand. Make sure your company attracts praise instead of criticism. Avoid risks and take advantage of opportunities.

Get Prepared for CSRD

The Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) has been enacted by the European Union (EU) to encourage higher quality ESG reporting by entities who operate in the EU. At present, entities must only report if they are in "material compliance" with CSRD's requirements. We expect in the future that entities will be required to "correct" their performance in areas where they fail to comply or "explain" why they do not. At present, CSRD focuses on 35 distinct areas of sustainability performance. The regulations that underly it refer to hundreds of indicators that entities can test to determine their level of compliance
